For New Sellers — How to Win Gym Clients
& Exactly What You Deliver

1. The Winning Mindset

You are not selling software. You are selling outcomes a gym owner already wants: a full reception desk that works 24/7, never misses a lead, collects payments automatically, and keeps them legally compliant — for less than a week of a receptionist's wage.

As a new seller with no track record, your job is to remove risk and prove value fast. You do that with a live demo, a low-risk first offer, and one happy reference gym.

Golden rule

Lead with the problem and the money. "How much time does your team lose on paperwork and chasing payments?" — then show how this removes it.

2. Who to Target First

- Independent gyms, boutique studios, CrossFit boxes, and personal-training facilities — they feel admin pain but have no big-corporate system.
- Owner-run gyms where you can speak to the decision-maker directly (no procurement department).
- Gyms still using paper forms, spreadsheets, or WhatsApp to manage members — your biggest, easiest wins.

Avoid large franchises first — they usually have locked-in corporate systems. Win small, independent owners who can say yes today.

3. How to Win Your First Client

Your first sale is the hardest because you have no proof. Solve that with an anchor pilot:

1. Offer 1–2 local gyms a discounted or free 14–30 day pilot in exchange for a testimonial, a case study, and referrals.
2. Set it up fully for them so they experience the finished product, not a promise.
3. After the pilot, convert them to a paying monthly plan and ask for 2–3 referrals while they're happy.
4. Use that reference gym in every future pitch — "Here's a gym near you already using it."

Why this works

One real, local, happy gym destroys the "but does it actually work?" objection for every prospect after it.

4. The Sales Conversation

Keep it short. Ask, show, offer. A simple flow:

- ASK about their pain: "Who handles new sign-ups and chasing monthly payments? How many hours a week is that?"
- SHOW the live demo on your phone (see section 6) — let them scan the QR and watch a member register in minutes.
- OFFER the low-risk start: a pilot or month-to-month plan they can cancel any time.

OPENING LINE

"I help gyms replace paperwork and payment chasing with an automated system that signs members up, screens their health, takes payment, and books classes — all from a QR code on your door. Can I show you in two minutes?"

CLOSING LINE

"Let's set it up for your gym free for two weeks. If it doesn't save you time, you walk away — no cost, no commitment."

5. Pricing & Handling Objections

Anchor the price against what it replaces, never in isolation:

Price anchor

A receptionist costs R8,000–R15,000/month. This does the admin 24/7 for a fraction of that. Present your monthly fee right after that comparison.

Common objections

"It's too expensive"	It costs less than a week of one staff member's wage and works 24/7, never takes leave, and reduces missed payments.
"We already have a system"	Does it register a member at 10pm on a Sunday, screen their health, and take payment automatically? Let's run it free alongside yours for 2 weeks.
"Is my members' data safe?"	Yes. Each gym gets its own private, encrypted database, POPIA-aligned, with member consent captured at sign-up.
"I'm not tech-savvy"	Everything is set up and configured for you. You use one simple admin screen, and I train you and your staff.
"What if it breaks?"	You're on a monthly plan that includes support and updates, and you can cancel any time.
"Let me think about it"	Fair — let's start the free 2-week pilot so your decision is based on real results, not a guess.

6. The Demo That Closes

Nothing sells this faster than the owner seeing it work. On your phone or laptop:

- Show your demo gym's QR code! scan it! walk through the member registration (screening, plan choice, payment screen).
- Show the membership card / ID PDF the member receives instantly.
- Log into the admin dashboard! show check-in verification, the member profile view.
- Show a class booking and an automatic email/notification.

Closing "wow" moments (show these)

- Face access: scan a face! instant access card. Then show the fallback verification code. "Your team is never stuck at the door."
- Staff & trainer ID cards: register a staff member with a face photo and a branded ID card + PDF generates on the spot — looks like a real corporate gym.
- Instant branding: change the gym name, logo and colour in Settings and the whole app re-themes — "this becomes YOUR gym, not generic software."

Always have a demo ready

Keep one fully-configured demo gym instance live at all times. Practise the 2-minute walkthrough — QR scan, face access, ID card, branding — until it's smooth.

7. What You Deliver to the Client

This is a service, not a once-off file. For each gym you deliver a complete, branded, hosted system plus the items to run it:

- Their own private, branded system — live at their web address (a subdomain or their own domain).
- Owner admin login to the dashboard.
- Their branding, membership plans and prices, add-ons, and gym rules configured in the system.
- Payments connected to the gym's own Paystack account; email/WhatsApp notifications connected.
- Print-ready QR codes (new member + existing member) for the door and reception.
- Staff and trainer accounts set up with face access + ID cards, if the gym wants them at handover.
- A training session ("H30 min) plus the white-label Owner's Manual PDF
- Ongoing hosting, updates, and support (your monthly subscription).

8. What the Gym Owner Actually Receives

The product is a hosted web system — there is no app file to install. The tangible items you hand over are:

The live system	A web link / URL (their subdomain or domain). This IS the product — opened on any phone or computer, no installation.
Admin login	A username + password for the /admin dashboard, delivered securely (not over open email).
QR code files	Image/PDF files of their two QR codes, print-ready for the door, reception desk, flyers and social media. Optional: a printed poster.
Handover pack (PDF)	A short document with their login, the system link, a how-to guide, what's included, and your support contact.

In short

You deliver a LINK + LOGIN + QR CODE FILES + a HANDOVER PDF. The "software" lives online and updates itself — the owner just uses it.

9. What Their Members Receive (Automatic)

Once live, the system generates these for every member with no work from the gym:

- A premium membership card PDF + full registration confirmation document.
- A downloadable digital ID card with photo and personal QR code.
- A welcome email, payment receipts, and class/booking confirmations.
- A unique membership number and verification code for gym access.

10. After the Sale — Keep & Grow

- Onboard within a few days; don't let momentum cool.
- Check in after week 1 to make sure they're using it and happy.
- After ~30 days, ask for a testimonial and 2–3 referrals.
- Upsell later: extra branding, additional locations, and the AI chatbot upgrade once enabled.

Compounding growth

Every happy gym becomes your reference and referral engine. Five happy gyms make the sixth, seventh and eighth almost sell themselves.
